

A natural disaster can strike at any time and leave your organization vulnerable to its consequences. Having a business continuity plan can help your organization identify threats and have a plan to get your operations up and running again.

PREPARE

Have all threats to your organization's key functions been identified?

Satisfactory Needs Attention Not Applicable

Are all important files from your organization's operations stored in multiple secure locations?

Satisfactory Needs Attention Not Applicable

Is there a backup facility to use if your building is unable to be occupied?

Satisfactory Needs Attention Not Applicable

If your building is destroyed, do you have an adequate amount of insurance coverage to remain operational after a disaster?

Satisfactory Needs Attention Not Applicable

Is there a communication plan in place to let those in your organization know what to do in an emergency?

Satisfactory Needs Attention Not Applicable

RECOVER

Is there a plan in place to know when it is safe to return to your organization?

Satisfactory Needs Attention Not Applicable

Is there a designated recovery team in place to initiate recovery efforts?

Satisfactory Needs Attention Not Applicable

PRACTICE

Has your organization tested your plan by running through different disaster scenarios with key leadership to verify the plan can be executed?

Satisfactory Needs Attention Not Applicable

Is there a team accountable for updating your business continuity plan regularly?

Satisfactory Needs Attention Not Applicable

The information contained in these materials is intended solely to provide general guidance on topics that may be of interest to you. While we have made reasonable efforts to present accurate and reliable information, Church Mutual Insurance Company, S.I. (a stock insurer)¹ and its affiliates expressly disclaim all liability for any errors or omissions, or for any actions you take or fail to take based on these materials. Links to any external websites provided in these materials are not maintained by Church Mutual Insurance Company, S.I. or its affiliates. Church Mutual Insurance Company, S.I. and its affiliates are not responsible for and do not in any way approve or endorse the content or accuracy of such sites. The information provided in these materials may not apply to your particular facts or circumstances; therefore, you should seek professional advice prior to relying on any information that may be found herein. © 2020 Church Mutual Insurance Company, S.I.. All Rights Reserved.

¹Church Mutual is a stock insurer whose policyholders are members of the parent mutual holding company formed on 1/1/20. S.I. = a stock insurer.